Dear Ms. Naguit,

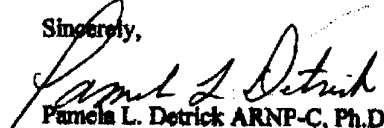

Though new to Seattle, I have been in the addictions field since 1986, first as a nurse, then nurse practitioner, college professor, and now federally funded researcher and college professor. I have just recently moved to Seattle to accept a position at Seattle University.

I currently teach "Principles Of Addiction Treatment" to nursing students at Seattle University School of Nursing and I was just recently awarded a grant from the National Institute on Drug Abuse to study Post traumatic Stress Disorder in Substance Using Women.

I believe with my years of experience and knowledge, I have something to offer to those that work so diligently to help those individuals affected by drug and alcohol abuse.

Your careful consideration is appreciated.

Sincerely,
