AN ORDINANCE related to planning and permitting; allowing search and rescue facilities in King County, subject to conditions; amending Ordinance 10870 Section 333, as amended, and K.C.C. 21A.08.060, Ordinance 10870, Section 337, as amended, and K.C.C. 21A.08.100 and Ordinance 10870, Section 388, as amended, and K.C.C. 21A.16.030 and adding a new section to K.C.C. chapter 21A.06.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF KING COUNTY:

SECTION 1. Findings:

A. RCW 38.52.010 defines search and rescue as "the acts of searching for, rescuing, or recovering by means of ground, marine, or air activity any person who becomes lost, injured, or is killed while outdoors or as a result of a natural, technological, or human caused disaster, including instances involving searches for downed aircraft when ground personnel are used."

B. RCW 38.52.400 endows the chief law enforcement officer of each political subdivision in Washington with responsibility for conducting search and rescue activities. In King County, the King County sheriff is the responsible official.

C. Chapter 118-04 WAC provides for the registration of volunteers as search and rescue emergency workers, in order to assist law enforcement in emergency operations, including search and rescue operations. That chapter provides basic requirements for classification of these workers as novice, support personnel or field personnel according to their training and qualifications, and allows for more detailed or extensive requirements to be developed at the local level.

D. The sheriff's office partners with volunteer organizations to conduct search and rescue operations throughout the county. Volunteers, under the direction of the sheriff, conduct a variety of search and rescue operations, including mountain rescue, ground search and rescue, ski patrol, search dogs, horseback search and rescue and vehicular operations.

E. Effective coordination and utilization of volunteers in search and rescue operations require that those volunteers are adequately trained to meet state and local specifications, and that equipment, such as vehicles, aircraft and personal supplies are readily accessible in the event of search and rescue activation.

F. A training facility for search and rescue volunteers requires ample indoor and outdoor space, so that sufficiently large numbers of volunteers can be trained on the technical and theoretical aspects of search and rescue operations and participate in outdoor drills that simulate the field conditions to which volunteers may be subjected.

G. Search and rescue operations are time sensitive, with an expeditious volunteer response potentially meaning the difference between life and death for the individual or individuals who are the subject of the search. It is therefore important that search and rescue equipment, such as vehicles, aircraft and personal equipment for volunteers be located near the areas where operations will most likely occur.

H. A majority of King County search and rescue operations occur in the rural area, with over seventy percent of search and rescue operations in the year 2020 occurring in wilderness areas outside of the urban growth area.

I. According to a November 20, 2020, memorandum from the director of the permitting division of the King County department of local services, a facility allowing for the full range of search and rescue operations and training does not meet the definition of any classified use in K.C.C. Title 21A. The same memorandum stated that establishment of such a use would best be achieved through a code amendment to K.C.C. Title 21A.

J. An allowance for the establishment of search and rescue facilities in the Rural Area zone is essential both for effective training of volunteers and for effective and expeditious response when volunteers are activated.

SECTION 2. There is hereby added to K.C.C. chapter 21A.06 a new section to read as follows:

Search and rescue facility: a multiuse facility operated by a nonprofit organization or organizations that, under direction from or in collaboration with a law enforcement agency, utilize emergency workers to conduct search and rescue operations as described in chapter 118-04 WAC. A search and rescue facility may include areas and spaces used for search and rescue activities and operations, such as:

- A. Indoor and outdoor training areas;
- B. Administrative offices and associated food preparation and dining facilities;
- C. Equipment storage and maintenance areas;
- D. Vehicle storage and maintenance areas;
- E. Meeting space;

F. An assembly hall, which is a large room used for the assembly of persons without fixed seats or a permanent stage; and

G. Helistops and helicopter fueling, maintenance and storage, including hangars.

SECTION 3. Ordinance 10870 Section 333, as amended, and K.C.C. 21A.08.060 are hereby amended to read as follows:
